GIVING BACK IS ALSO A GREAT WAY TO GET TO KNOW YOUR COMMUNITY. VOLUNTEERING MAY EVEN HELP YOU DISCOVER A NEW PASSION OR INTEREST!

Teaching ourselves to care about others is an important life lesson.

Giving back is the right thing to do and we can learn to follow positively in the footsteps of our friends and family.

Helping others feels good. When you donate to a charity that is important to you, you not only help them continue their work, you're also improving your emotional wellbeing!

Donating to charity also helps you be a good role model to your friends and family! How many different ways can you get involved in giving?

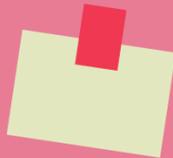

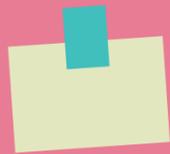

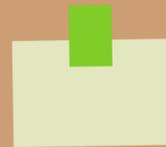

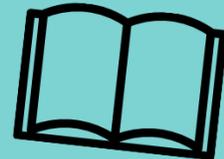

We are never too young to learn about the importance of giving back to those in need, and getting ourselves interested in a cause that matters to us is a great first step!

Not only does helping others feel great, learning how much fun it can be to support a favourite cause will spark an interest in charitable giving that can stay with us for life!
